THE HAIKU CALENDAR COMPETITION 2018

ADJUDICATOR'S REPORT

Many thanks to everyone who entered this 20th annual contest, and to those who helped to publicize what is an internationally established annual haiku 'event'.

This year 1,062 entries were received from 134 entrants residing in 17 countries across 4 continents: USA (68 entrants), England (28), Australia (9), Canada (7), Scotland (5), Ireland (3), New Zealand (3), Germany (2), Finland (1), India (1), Israel (1), Italy (1), Poland (1), Slovenia (1), Spain (1), Switzerland (1), and Wales (1).

As ever, in the initial stage of adjudication each poem entered faced one simple criterion: its quality as a haiku. The shortlisted haiku were then judged according to their originality and relevance to their assigned months, particularly with regards to seasonal references.

With 52 haiku by 41 authors, the resulting 2019 calendar continues a rich tradition exploring and celebrating the continuing relevance of seasonal references in English-language haiku. The existence of the calendar, which is only made possible by participation in this contest, also allows us to appreciate individual haiku such as these:

the stray dog's ears
as we try to guess his name—
winter's end

Billie Wilson (USA)

meteor night—
shaking the star chart
out of its folds

Richard Tindall (England)

spring afternoon
the paper bark sheds
layers of light

Jane Williams (Australia)

winter moon
from this bend too
the little graveyard

Chuck Brickley (USA)

Many thanks again to all entrants for making both this contest and the calendar a worthwhile, and ongoing, experience. I would like to congratulate all the winning poets, and I hope that their haiku will be widely appreciated throughout the coming year.
